The Constructive Bible Studies and Other Textbooks for Religious Education (A fully graded series)

Published by THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

A study of the titles illustrated above will show that play, music, stories with handwork, the fresh interest in books, hero-worship, the historical and literary instincts, are successively employed to present social, ethical, and religious truths at just the stage of development when these instrumentalities make their strongest appeals.

Features not shown in the photograph are: the attractive color in the bindings, appealing strongly to the eye and taste of the pupil; the numerous artistic and instructive illustrations; the illuminating maps; the clear, large type; the careful editing; the interesting form of presentation of each lesson, both to teacher and pupil.

The six volumes on the left are all guides for the teacher, the work of the pupil in those grades being in notebook or other expressional form.
